Barracks Detachment
Marine Barracks,
Navy Yard,
Bklyn, N.Y.
June 21st, 917.

Sweetheart Frances:-

Well how did you sleep last night? I slept pretty well, only I got up kind of tired. I believe I'll read a little to-night — with my glasses on — and then go to bed early.

It's 9 minutes to 8 P.M. and I expect to be off on hike at 8^30^. I will probably be at the park ~~via~~ until 3 P.M. I hope it won't be a hard day to-day as I'm not very much in the mood of hiking.

When I got home

last night, I found a picture of Leve which he had sent to Rose. You should have seen him. A regular guise. I'll try and bring it with me when next I come.

Honey, haven't much more except that I love you and love you with all my heart, my own precious Tots.

With a big hug and lots & lots of kisses & with all my love,

Lovingly

Joe.